

Abstract of the Disclosure:

Method for carrying out simplex transmission of a data message modulated onto a carrier frequency, in particular for simplex radio transmission in a radio access control system, in which the data message is transmitted to increase immunity to interference, whereby the multiple transmission is carried out using at least two different carrier frequencies.

GLM/tk

[illegible]